CORRESPONDENCE:

IN:

2 families emailing for re- homing their cavaliers .One has already started discussions with a company from Yass. The other due to delays in computer and new email address has re-homed her cavoodles. A lady asking for advice for her father's 2 cavaliers living in a nursing home. Toilet and feeding issues, advice given over the phone. A lady sending down her unused dog heart medication no longer required.

An enquiry re the next health clinic directed to our club site.

Dog House Australia's next series wanting the club's interest in their rescue programme. It was decided that a thank you from the club was appropriate with the email forwarded onto S Donohue and K Rolfe as requested to forward onto relevant people.

A notice of a televised section to be made at the Dogs Lovers Festival read .

OUT:

New email address sent to Dogs NSW and Dogs Festival.

Email to K Browne enquiring on his arrival in Sydney for the Sept Show.

TREASURERS REPORT:

J McCrae read out the outgoing costs and incoming deposits to the club. An opening Balance of $26,592.03 with incoming of $1470.00 made a total of $28,062.03. Less expenses $4,032.78 made a balance of $24,029.25

HEALTH:

No mention made of any Health Report.

SHOW BUSINESS:

September Show preparations are underway. Discussion was had on various items for the show. The Cake and cost approved. Julie Christie discussed a few ideas for the catering general approval for those ideas given. A couple of other ideas was presented but not the expenses (which were

PROMOTIONS:

Dogs Lovers Festival thank you to all volunteer attendees. S Donohue, J Christie H Lenihan on Saturday with S Donohue, J Humphries and G Smith for Sunday. All volunteers looking forward to their massive day out with the public.

OTHER BUSINESS:

Current Club's business cards, old email address have old email address. It was decided we do not need business cards. the leaflets can be adjusted for the present time.

Requesting to purchase a mouse for the club computer approved.

J Montford mentioned the Christchurch Cavalier Club of New Zealand would like to share costs for the 2025 September, Ch. Show. They will contact the Secretary with this idea.

2 Online judge names have so far been supplied for nominations for the 2025 Ch Easter Show.

J Montford has also suggested and nominated Irish Judge Jenny Miller who will be in Australia to judge the Spaniel Show Friday, the Setter Show Saturday with the Vizlar Club are considering her for a short show on Sunday. There is an opening to obtain her for the Sunday Ch Show at a reasonable cost approximately $500. Well below our normal costs.

K Paul moved a motion to talk about bringing the Easter Ch Show and September Ch Show together in September. K Paul was advised this was discussed and finalised at a previous meeting.

S Boyce has the trophy prizes in hand for the Sept. Ch Show.

S Boyce has also brought up about the ribbons order being placed. This has now all been finalised.

A query made whether our Perpetual Trophies will be on show in September. Yes they will be, again volunteers required to have them returned to the lock up a short distance away.

J Christie was in praise of Sam help in compiling the Year Book.

J Montford moved to thank both John and Julie Christie's volunteer work for the club over the past 10 years compiling the Year book and Newsletters. Plus John has been the Computer Technical Advisor during that time.

K Paul was also thanked for the Data Collection every year for the Year Book.

S Axial queried the Breed Directory if it was updated. This will be worked on.

J McRae advised the Bank suggested the club to set up a debit card not a credit card so the club can access funds to pay for necessary everyday items. Only the amount deposited in can be used with no access to the Club Account. Approval reached. Such items would be club prizes, printing and postage charges.

HEALTH: The Health Clinic is fine with some vacancies with eyes.

SHOW BUSINESS:

The 100th Sept. Show's weather could have been a lot better. The breeders gazebos marked the parameter with them sitting in the sunshine, watching Keith Brown's judging. He had everything under control and the show went along smoothly with Peta Weber Gibb the Steward.

Our resident photographer Barbara Killworth once again taking her masterful photos.

The Presentation went off smoothly, with Keith giving a talk on his introduction to showing, maintaining our breeds integrity through health testing and breeding to type.

J Humphries suggested we need view to employing a Show Secretary for our shows for the day of the show only. M West is not interested in CH.Show position.

A query made do we want to continue with the catalogues being stapled or bound, majority confirmed stapled as usual.

The CKCS show date for the 2025 Easter Show may change again. At present it has been altered to the Thursday before Good Friday. We will know further after the Royal Show committee has finalised all their shows taking into consideration what other shows are being held at Orchard Hills over the Easter weekend to avoid clashing with the FCI Judging. Our Easter Sunday Shows remains the same in ring 13 as usual.

The ladies who were charged the extra for their puppy show entries have kindly donated the charges back to the club. Thank You Amanda and Lyn

The Easter show nominees are due in the next coupe of days. They will be presented at the next General Meeting.

PROMOTIONS:

Yes we are having a Fun Day to be confirmed with Castle Hill Council.

OTHER BUSINESS:

A HUGE thank you to everyone, committee and members who put in the hard work in the presentation of the room, dressing the trophy table and the silent auction on Saturday.

The Silent Auction went smoothly. Although our numbers were down our members dug deep into their pockets making a total of $498 on the day. Thank you to our members who contributed those items. There were some very happy new owners taking home their items to add to their collection at home.

Another HUGE thanks to those who helped put the trophies into their tubs, dismantling everything, the outside gazebos, ring items, then transferring it to the lock up. They say more hands make light work and indeed this year everything was packed away in record time. Thank you.

Plus Julie and John Christie who even though they don't show, continually worked all day to see things behind the scenes ran smoothly. Great work, thank you.

The Newsletter is due out. Julie is requesting the full show results. James mentioned the costs of postage need to be reviewed as costs have increased with Australia Post. James has also said he can provide the printing for newsletter etc at no cost.

There being no further business the meeting closed at 8.15pm.

How to prepare your dogs for breeding

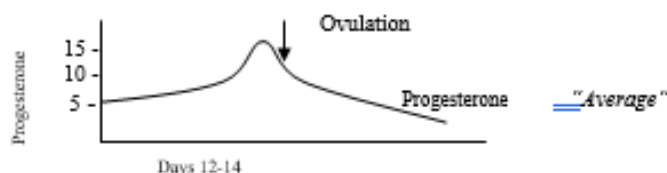

As soon as your bitch is in season

1. Get your bitch swabbed – a vaginal swab should be done asap so if there is infection you have time to treat it before mating. Remember infection will reduce conception rate and infections kill pups. The interpretation of the swab result by your vet is important and you may not need antibiotics but don't kid yourself and think a course of clayulox is going to be the answer instead of a swab. Clayulox does not fix all infections. Of course a bitch may get an infection after she is swabbed (possibly from the male or because of hormonal effects on uterus) but that is no excuse for not doing a swab.
2. Check the stud dog is fertile. Take him to your vet for a semen analysis. Remember the first ejaculation is frequently sterile or of low fertility, so it may be advisable 'to empty his pipes' beforehand. Don't wait till you want to use him over your bitch to find you need another stud fast. There are many options for infertility in males, but most take more than 48 hours to treat effectively. Make sure the vet does more than look at a spot of semen for motility – a semen analysis should look at concentration and morphology also.

Five days after season starts

Get a blood test for progesterone.

- Accurate timing of mating is important
- Every bitch will have a different cycle every time she comes on heat
- Progesterone tests are the most effective way of knowing the correct day to breed.
- There are at least 5 different types of cycles a bitch may have

Mating

Semen needs to get to the right spot for pregnancy to occur.

Statistically natural matings have a lower conception rate [61.2%] than artificial insemination [fresh semen 71.8%, frozen semen 81.7%]. Even higher rates are reported with AI directly into the uterus [95% with surgical or transcervical insemination]. So you need to consider your options well before your bitch is ready so everything can happen at the right time.

In Summary

The most costly part of breeding is not the vet fees but the lack of income if you don't get a litter from your bitch. Prepare both bitch and stud dog to improve your chances of a successful litter.

The major reasons for not getting a litter are

- Infection
- Improper timing of breeding
- Poor semen quality
- Semen not getting to the right spot

Age of your breeding bitch and stud dog

- There are 2 different scales used depending on the laboratory there are common units [ng/ml] and SI units [nmol/L]. Convert from common to international SI by multiplying by 3.18, or convert from SI to common by multiplying by 0.315.
- The day of ovulation is different for every bitch every cycle – don't presume this cycle will be the same as the last cycle.
- If you only do 2 progesterone test you may be lucky and predict accurately but in most cases 3 tests [sometimes more] are required but your vet will advise the best time to do the next test.
- Progesterone levels are used to predict the time of ovulation. After progesterone exceeds 15 nmol/L [5ng/ml], there is a surge in luteinizing hormone and ovulation occurs [most bitches are multiple ovulators and will release eggs over 2-4 days], the oocyte matures and are ready for fertilisation about 2 days later, so often much higher progesterone levels are used as indicators of timing of matings – usually the indicator numbers are 25nmol/L or 8 ng/ml. it is usually consider too late to mate if progesterone is over 100nmolL [30ng/ml].
- Optimum fertility when bitch is breed 2 to 4 days after ovulation

Progesterone Nmol/L International units	Progesterone Ng/ml common units	Interpretation	Plan
Less than 3	Less than 2.0	Too early	Recheck in 2-5 days or as advised by vet
3-10	2.0-3.5	Too early no ovulation yet	Recheck in 2 days. Be prepared to begin breeding
10	3.5	Ovulation is likely to happen in 24-48 hrs	Recheck in 1-2 days. Plan breeding for 24-48 hrs from test
15	5.0	Ovulation will occur in 24hrs	Breed 24-72hrs after test
20-25	4.0-8.0	Ovulation	Begin breeding
25-50	8.0-15.0	1-2 days after ovulation fertile period	Breed ASAP
50-100	15-30	Late oestrus. May still get good fertility if surgical AI but is later than desirable	May have reduced fertility
>100	>30	Too late (except for surgical AI)	Next cycle test earlier
